ACTION PLAN | DAY 23

A Letter To Your Future (Freelance) Self

Dear Future Freelance Self,

Well, this has been quite a year! I finally got a handle on time-tracking and sane scheduling, thanks to _____. I raised my rates to _____ per hour...and no one even flinched. I started scaling back my email-addiction, and these days I only check my inbox _____ times a day. I even revamped my _____, and gave myself a snazzy new job title: _____.

My clients can't stop raving about my _____, and I'm so proud to be able to help them with _____. I've still got a lot to learn about _____, but man, if someone had told me twelve months ago that I'd be getting paid to _____, I never would've believed them.

I'm so grateful to be my own boss, share my expertise, make an impact...and make a living. When next year rolls around, I'm going to "give back" in a big way: by _____ and _____.

But until then, I'll keep _____ like it's my job. Because it is.

Love,
Me

Freckle

What's more BURSTING with AWESOME than a time tracker? No, really! You gotta try Freckle Time Tracking.
