

Institute of Awesome Summer School Finals Worksheet

End of Semester Review

Learning anything new in thirty days can be tough, especially when it comes to shaking up your business.

Take this chance to think about the changes you want to apply to your freelance biz; creating a timeline of when and how these changes will happen is a great way to get started.

The tips that you can start working on immediately & the things you feel passionate about will be the easiest to start working on!

Daily Lessons that stood out the most:

After you have made a few initial changes, it will be easier to start on the ones that seem more daunting and difficult!

🌀 Tips that can be implemented NOW

🌀 Tips or ideas that will require short term planning

🌀 Ideas and actions that are more of a long term project

Now cue the Pomp and Circumstance!

Congratulations again on being the first graduating class of the Institute of Awesome! Please let us know how you've injected awesome into your biz, we always love to hear from our alumni :)
